

What makes New Hope different from other Australian coal mining companies?

New Hope's operations are comparatively less emissions-intensive compared to other Australian-based coal mining companies. We have strong relationships with customers in key markets, as well as a growing client base in newer Asian markets such as Vietnam and India.

What assets does New Hope Group own?

New Hope Group owns or invests in assets including exploration areas near our Bengalla Mine and an investment in Malabar Resources. The Bengalla Mine is located four kilometres south-west of Muswellbrook in New South Wales.

Is New Hope a good coal producer?

With a suite of low cost, quality assets and strong balance sheet, New Hope remains well positioned to endure the current global economic downturn and retain its position as one of Australia's leading coal producers. Source: New Hope Group (median coal quality across product grades) and S&P Global Platts (April 2018).

Is New Hope a good company?

With business interests and operations spanning coal mining, exploration, port operation, oil, agriculture, innovative technologies and investment, New Hope is ranked as one of the 100 largest ASX listed companies by market capitalisation, and is amongst the top 10 ASX listed companies based in Queensland.

Does New Hope have a competitive advantage?

This may give the Group competitive advantage relative to other market participants. New Hope's existing New Acland Mine utilises recycled wastewater from the Wetalla Wastewater Treatment facility. This provides the Company with a competitive advantage for this site, which could be potentially duplicated and leveraged at other operations.

Will New Hope's Bengalla Mine be approved in 2039?

New Hope's Bengalla Mine has existing approvals that extend to 2039, enabling New Hope to avoid potentially lengthy and costly mine approval processes.
