

Why is energy important in Bhutan?

Energy in Bhutan has been a primary focus of development in the kingdom under its Five-Year Plans. In cooperation with India, Bhutan has undertaken several hydroelectric projects whose output is traded between the countries.

Does Bhutan have energy-saving potential?

It is expected that with the increase in population and modernization of any country, energy consumption would increase. Bhutan is a carbon-negative country and committed to remaining carbon-neutral. Thus, identifying energy-saving potential will increase energy efficiency and contribute to continue fulfilling this pledge for years to come.

What is the Bhutan energy data directory?

The Bhutan Energy Data Directory is a valuable resource for policymakers, researchers, and anyone interested in the energy sector of Bhutan. It provides a wealth of data and information on various aspects of Bhutan's Energy Sector, including energy production, consumption, and distribution.

What is Bhutan's energy supply?

Bhutan's energy supply primarily relies on electricity, fuel-wood, coal, and diesel. Electricity is the largest contributor, with a shift towards increased usage over the years. Fuel-wood usage has decreased, while bio-gas, solar energy, and limited-scale wind energy have gained traction as alternative sources.

How can energy pricing improve energy efficiency in Bhutan?

Reforms to energy pricing can help level the playing field for renewable energy technologies, thus incentivising their uptake in both on-grid and off-grid settings. In the specific case of Bhutan, improving energy efficiency is a fundamental and cost-effective first step towards integration of renewables in all sectors.

How can the energy industry be diversified in Bhutan?

Diversification of the energy industry of Bhutan requires a significant uptake of renewable energy in end-use sectors and an overarching improvement in energy efficiency. Heating and transportation are two major arenas with tremendous potential for the adoption of renewable energy within their end-use sectors.
