

How do you open a locker if your knee is not working?

Once you pull the latch/opening mechanism up, release the pressure your knee is placing onto the door. If you are finding that the constant pressure from your knee or a shoulder doesn't work as you attempt to open the locker, try a firm but gentle "pound" on the area to try and jostle whatever is causing the jam.

What happens if a school locker is jammed?

A jammed locker is a nuisance and a time stealer, but you don't need to make yourself late. Most jams come from books, packages, and other things pressing against the lock. Knocking that item free is often enough to open up the average school locker. If your locker has a key lock, clean it before attempting to force it open.

How do I open a locker door?

Tip: Remember to spin the dial right, left, right. With the arrow still lined up with your last digit, you should now be able to open the lock by pulling up or down on the shackle (the loop part) which will pop open. Once the lock is open, you can lift or pull the handle to open the locker door and that's it, you're in!

Should a locker swing open?

Your locker should swing open. Built-in locks are sleek, often offering both combination and keyed methods: Introducing the Built-In Dial: Unlike an external lock, this dial is a part of the locker itself but operates similarly. Unlocking Sequence: Use the same steps as above for a traditional locker combination. The key difference?

What should I do if my locker is stuck?

If your locker is still stuck, go to room 119, and ask Mr. Vickers to unlock your locker for you. He has the key to open any locker in the school. This happens to everyone at some point, so don't be embarrassed. If you are continuously having problems with your locker, go to the office and tell the secretary about it.

How do you open a locker without a lock?

Put pressure on the locker with your knee while opening it. Prop your knee on the locker about 190° of the way up to the lock. Doing this is a little awkward, but the pressure often gets the locking mechanism working again. While you have your knee planted on the door, put in your combination and lift the latch on the locker's handle to open it.
