BW Energy holds 37.5% working interest and is the operator of the blocks, which significantly expands the resource base for infrastructure-led exploration in Gabon. The blocks are adjacent to BW Energy's Dussafu Marin licence offshore southern Gabon, covering a combined area of 4,918 km².

This shows why gas and oil exploration and production is necessary. It is the early stages in energy production and involves searching for and extracting gas and oil. The exploration and production firms identify and extract raw materials that are later used by the energy sectors.

Although it had originally planned to drill there as early as this year (AI, 22/09/21), using the same rig as in Gabon, the failure of FAR's exploration efforts in this basin - in Gambia on its A2 block - has largely dashed its hopes and Cnooc is now only talking about optional wells in this area.
