

Can solar be used as a wind energy source in Mexico?

Solar deployment can follow wind transmission. Targeted grid upgrades, if any, for wind, will benefit solar as well because solar resources exist in all areas of the country. Solar potential in Mexico is six times larger than wind, and the technology complements wind generation very well.

Is Mexico seeing a surge in distributed generation solar projects?

Solar companies and energy analysts said they are seeing an unprecedented surge in distributed generation (DG) solar projects, which are smaller and less regulated with a threshold in Mexico of 500 kilowatts - enough to power about 200 households.

Can Crown and 529 Capital provide clean drinking water in Cabo San Lucas?

The proposed RO plant should enable Crown and 529 Capital to provide clean drinking water to a select few of the resorts in Cabo San Lucas through a co-operative partnership over the next 5 years. The co-operative partners will be able to have a reliable water supply, ensuring a sustainable and efficient solution.

Is Mexico a good place to invest in green hydrogen?
