

Detailed explanation of Trina photovoltaic panel specifications

What voltages can Trina Solar modules operate at?

Trina Solar modules are certified for operating in Application Class A installations at voltages below 1000V DC (For TSM-PE05A, PE14A, below 1500V DC).

Are Trina Solar solar modules corrosive?

Salt spray corrosion tests conducted in accordance with IEC 61701 have shown that Trina Solar's PV modules can be installed near offshore or in the corrosive environment. However, the modules shall not be immersed in water or in a permanently wet environment (e.g., fountains, spindrift, etc.).

What is the power output of a Trina Solar pc14?

With power outputs ranging from 265 to 285 Watt, the modules are designed specially for utility-scale installations. Along with the rest of Trina Solar's module portfolios, the PC14 provides the highest Quality and power output to our utility-scale customers.

What temperature should Trina Solar modules be installed in?

Trina Solar recommends that the module should be installed in a working environment with an ambient temperature of  $-20^{\circ}\text{C}$  to  $50^{\circ}\text{C}$ , but not exceed the temperature limit of  $-40^{\circ}\text{C}$  to  $85^{\circ}\text{C}$ . The modules shall be installed in shadow-free areas throughout the year. Do not install the PV modules at a place where water damage may occur.

Do Trina Solar modules need a transformer?

When installed in systems governed by IEC regulations, Trina Solar modules normally do not need to be electronically connected to earth and therefore can be operated together with either galvanically isolated (with transformer) and transformerless inverters.

How do you protect a Trina Solar PV module?

Cover the front surface of modules by an opaque material when repairing. Modules when exposed to sunlight generate high voltage and are dangerous. Trina Solar PV modules are equipped with bypass diodes in the junction box. This minimizes module heating and current losses.
