

How about Trina Solar Waterproof Bracket

How do you protect a Trina Solar PV module?

Cover the front surface of modules by an opaque material when repairing. Modules when exposed to sunlight generate high voltage and are dangerous. Trina Solar PV modules are equipped with bypass diodes in the junction box. This minimizes module heating and current losses.

What voltages can Trina Solar modules operate at?

Trina Solar modules are certified for operating in Application Class A installations at voltages below 1000V DC (For TSM-PE05A., PE14A., below 1500V DC).

Where should Trina Solar cables be routed?

Trina Solar recommends that all cables are routed in appropriate conduits or rails where water does not accumulate. The number of modules in series and in parallel shall be designed reasonably according to the system configuration. All the above instructions must be followed to meet Trina Solar's warranty conditions.

Is Trina Solar a dual glass/frameless module?

Trina Solar manufactures the PDG5, a 60-cell dual glass module. It comes in at around 255 W, has a 15.2% module efficiency and is UL certified. Trina offers a 30-year warranty on the product. SB: What is a dual glass/frameless module? JT: A traditional module is a silicon sandwich.

How do I clamp a Trina Solar module?

Trina Solar has tested its modules with a number of clamps from different manufacturers and recommends the use of clamps which have an EPDM or similar insulating washer, fixing bolt of at least M6. The clamp must overlap the module frame by at least 7mm(0.28in) but no more than 10mm(0.39in).

Are Trina Solar modules corrosive?

According to Intertek-conducted IEC 61701:2011, salt mist corrosion testing of photovoltaic (PV), Trina Solar modules can be safely installed in corrosive salt areas within proximity of the ocean or sulfurous areas.
