

The Majamaja concept is based on premium architecture and resource-optimised wooden building system, combined with a patented off-grid technology for green energy production and water purification system.

After spending five years searching for the ideal location, Aleksi Hautamäki and Milla Selkimäki have successfully built two off-grid cabins on their very own private island, ...

When people think off-grid in Finland, they usually imagine a summer cottage without running water, no plumbing, and minimal, if any, electrical power available. Over a decade and a half ago, I started planning a modern, comfortable house - except it would be fully off-grid.

Wild beauty and stylish simplicity amid Finland's rugged thousand-island landscape. Low-key natural living for dreamers and drifters. Settled on undulating rock, this carefully crafted cabin reflects a love of sustainable design.

I've built a modern off-grid house here in Finland. The aim was to be self sufficient in energy requirements, water, wastewater treatment, heating/cooling, etc. - everything except food. We're at 63 degrees north, so this comes with all kinds of challenges and building requirements that might not be so evident for people living in warmer areas.
