Are solar leases and PPAs a scam?

No, not all leases and PPAs are scams. However, they seem to be a breeding ground for deceptive and predatory practices, including the old "government is paying people to go solar" scam. Related reading: Solar Leases vs. Solar Loans vs. Solar PPAs

Are 'free solar panels' a scam?

Oops! We'll be right back. Sorry, something went wrong. Rest assured, we are working hard to fix the problem as soon as possible. In the meantime, try refreshing this page or visiting our homepage. If you've received an offer for "free solar panels," it could be a scam.

Are homeowners paying for solar panels in a lease or PPA?

In short, free solar panel ads are typically for leases and power purchase agreements (PPAs). These arrangements are basically long-term solar system rentals in which the solar company owns the panels and homeowners pay a monthly fee in lieu of their electricity bill. So, are homeowners technically paying for solar panels in a lease or PPA? No.

How do I avoid a crappy solar panel deal?

To avoid a crappy solar panel deal, watch out for these scammy sales tactics. Dealing with door-to-door salespeople is annoying, no matter what they're selling. But the solar industry is full of bad actors, with solar salespeople knocking at your door with misleading offers and overpromised savings.

It's likely a scam. While there are some government-funded solar programs for households that qualify, "going solar" isn't free. Honest businesses will tell you exactly how much it'll cost to get and install solar ...
